

BARBARA WILDER'S NEWSLETTER – APRIL 2008

Wow! What a remarkable time. The energy is shifting so fast that most everyone I know is finding it almost impossible to keep up with their lives. It's time to take some deep breaths and keep on going. It doesn't seem like anything is going to slow down in the near future, so all we can do is expand. The way to be in the best attunement during this time is to make sure that you're in line with goodness. Ask yourself if you are expressing yourself from a place of goodwill toward all? Are your projects in line with the highest good for all? If they are, then you will begin to experience time expanding making it possible for you to get everything done. There are legions of radiant beings on your team helping you. So, don't think you're all alone. Call on your radiant team for help, and you will receive it.

THE SOUND OF THE ENERGY

I woke up at 4:00 AM the other morning and heard from the back of my energy field a gentle tinkling sound. Then in my mind's eye I saw luscious golden coins falling into puddles of light. This was the origin of the sweet sound. Oh, we are so blessed, when we open our inner eyes to all that the Divine grants us. It's in the dark morning hours as the sun is just beginning to think about rising that we are most available to the ultimate beauty. The poet Rumi says, "The breeze at dawn has secrets to tell you; do not go back to sleep." Only fear separates us from the great goodness.

The discipline that it takes to choose the light, to choose the beauty, to choose the divine truth over the fear is quite a challenge. But we are supported more now than ever by the radiant levels of consciousness. Open to them. Listen for the sound of the tinkling golden coins of the Great Mother Lakshmi and know that she is reminding you that She is returning. She is rising up again to take her place on the Earth. And with her comes all the abundance and love and goodwill that she embodies. She bids you to open to embody it with her.

Listen. Listen. Listen.

MY OWN PERSONAL JOY

Writing, directing, producing and acting in my new play POWER WOMAN MAGIC is a dream from my childhood. It is a dream from my deep self. Sharing this play with the first audience that saw it in February was such a joy. I can't stop now. I'm hooked on my heart's desire. I have found a wonderful creative partner, Alexandra Kulwant Kaur, and we are working together in the kind of partnership that I describe in the chapter titled The Power or Partnership and Community in my book EMBRACING YOUR POWER WOMAN, the basis for the play. I am also so blessed to have another wonderful partner, Kris Dillon, as our Drum Leader and Musical Director. And I'm so grateful for Marian Head who is our first financial partner. Such blessedness. The cast members for the first production were all angels, who each brought her own unique light, beauty, and talent to create a moment in time which was timeless and powerful.

I'm looking forward to the next cast, the next financial partners, the next women and men who are stepping up to join me in my dream. Because each person who joins the Power Woman Magic community adds another ray of light that shines deeper and deeper into the darkness and reveals the beauty, truth, and goodness that is just waiting to be brought forth.
