

MAY 2009 – WORDS FOR THE NEW DAWN

Wow! The changes just keep on coming. I have just returned from a whirlwind trip to Southern California, where I led a circle of women in ceremony as we helped to reconnect money to the sacred feminine on a live webcast. You can view it at here - I also spent time with my son and dear friends, and felt surrounded by love and so very grateful to be alive on this magnificent earth at this most potent and exciting time in human history. The month of May is leading us toward an opening in June that we can barely imagine. Abundance, love, and goodwill are all part of what is coming. We are all being called to be all that we can be in this time. Bless you for your participation.

Lovingly,
Barbara

FOCUS, FOCUS, FOCUS

We all have our own specific issues and passions, which are keeping us extremely busy right now. For me, of course, it is money and helping reconnect it to the sacred feminine. And everything that I find myself doing both in my professional and personal life at this time is interwoven with money and its sacredness. What are your specific issues and passions? At this chaotic time you might find this a challenging question. But we are being asked to clear away all the detritus that keeps us scattered in all directions and become centered and focused. When we do that, we release the old stories that have been driving our lives, and create a new space for our true purpose to be expressed. Each one of us has one or two very specific gifts to bring to this moment in history. If we aren't clear and focused our gifts can be hidden, or even lost, in the mire of unconsciousness.

If you're not sure what your purpose is, remember that your purpose is always unfolding, and it is shown to you in bits and pieces as you put your attention on your passions and your issues. Your true passions are simply the enlightened sparks that come from your soul, and your issues are those thoughts and feelings that try to sabotage your passions. Therefore, in you issues are the key to your passions, and thus, your unfolding purpose.

Meditation and journaling with the conscious intention to release your issues and open to your passions are good tools to use on this quest.

Focus on your brilliance. Focus on your inner strength. Remember who you are.

Allow yourself to know that you are a bright being of light and that it is through you that the new era is being born.

Prosperity Reminder

GIVING, SHARING, CARING

No matter how little you have, there is always someone who has less. Give whatever you can to someone who could use a little help, and be open to receiving help from others.
